Healthnetwork Executive Health Centers of Excellence

Executive Health Programs are designed for busy executives and active individuals who value their time and their good health. Our hospitals understand your need for convenience and efficiency and they go out of their way to deliver just that. In as little as one day, you will meet with a team of physicians and specialists for a comprehensive medical evaluation. The results may change your life – or possibly save it.

Your path to good health begins with an understanding of personal risk factors and an identification of poor health habits.

Establishing baselines for medical tests is one way to remain on the right path. Often the rate of change of test levels may be a more accurate indicator of a disease than the absolute value. By scheduling regular executive physicals, physicians can monitor changes in test results that may ensure early detection and more successful treatments.

“Most of the executives I see spend so much time working on their business and not enough time taking care of themselves. I’ve seen literally thousands of executives in my more than 20 years in preventive health, and my review of these consultations shows that we have made life-changing discoveries for about 4 out of every 10 individuals.”

George Sack, M.D.

Medical Director for Johns Hopkins USA

Executive Health Programs vary in length and can be anywhere from 1- 5 days.

The schedule is customized for you. Factors such as age, gender, family history, and lifestyle will impact the testing. Some diagnostic procedures above and beyond a typical schedule (e.g. colonoscopy) may require an additional day of testing.

Your health and well-being is inextricably tied to your ability to lead – your family, your business, and your community.

Executive Health Programs can put you on the track to optimal health. After all, so many people depend on you to be at your best every day.

Safeguard your future health with an executive physical. Call Healthnetwork for priority scheduling today or visit our website for more information about these programs.
